- Provides the user with a highly simplified method of graphic installation.
- Natural choice for airport, retail, showroom, sports venue, tradeshow, and other types of display environments.
- May be ordered with standard satin-anodized aluminum finish, or in a variety of colors.
- Each unit is separated into sections for convenience of shipment.
- On-site assembly is quick and easy.

How it works: The graphic print has a velcro strip permanently attached to the reverse side of its perimeter. The graphic is first affixed to the BannerBright™ structure by mating its strip with a corresponding velcro strip permanently mounted inside the perimeter of the structure. Next the spring-loaded frame profile sections are closed, adding tension and security to the graphic. In the final step, a special key is inserted into a series of keyholes and rotated, providing additional tensioning and security. One person, with no special skills can accomplish graphic changes in minutes. There are no plastic sheets to handle and/or damage and there is no complex fastening of loops and strings. US and foreign patents pending.
