

Sideline Signatures™

Sideline Signature's ingenious design makes it injury-proof, easy to set up and effective for crowd control!

More bang for your buck: The name of the game is “impressions” and “brand identity,” and Sideline Signatures gives you more of both, making an impression on each and every person at the event and every fan watching on TV.

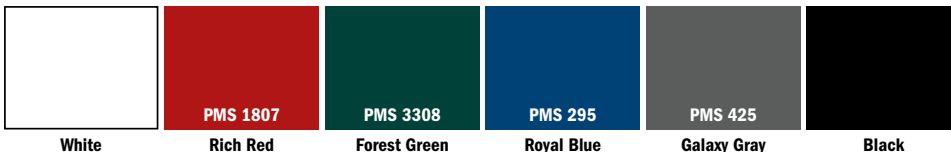

Sideline Signatures display puts corporate sponsors in the most visible areas. In addition to serving as premium sponsorship opportunities, they also protect against injury and keep staff, the public, and the press at a safe distance from the action. These very effective panels can be arranged in any configuration.
